

Oceanic Society

Exploring and protecting the natural world

February 4, 2022

Dear Keiko Token,

Thank you for adopting and naming humpback whale ID CRC-18897 through Oceanic Society's "Adopt a Whale" program. Per your request, this whale will hereafter be known as Keiko. On the enclosed adoption certificate you will find a photo and information about your adopted whale.

Your whale is one of hundreds that have been photographed by Oceanic Society citizen scientists aboard our whale and wildlife watching cruises. We contribute our whale fluke photos to a centralized database called Happywhale, where they are compared against a database of other whale fluke images using artificial intelligence to find a match. Together with other researchers throughout the eastern Pacific, we are helping to understand whale populations for the purposes of ocean conservation. You can find a complete sightings history for Keiko at <https://happywhale.com/individual/27215>.

Your whale adoption fee of $1,000 not only supports our continued whale monitoring efforts, it also supports our Critter Scholars Program that provides life-changing ocean experiences to underserved students and communities in the San Francisco Bay Area.

You can learn more about our work at www.oceanicsociety.org.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Roderic Mast
